

Lilies are Deadly to Cats

All parts of the lily are toxic to cats if ingested.

Tiny amounts, even licking pollen from their coat, can lead to kidney failure and death within 3 – 7 days.

Prevention is better than cure: Keep lily arrangements out of the reach of cats.

Ask your veterinarian for more information

Proudly sponsored by:

